The ex-Confederate General Fitzhugh Lee was by unanimous vote nominated for governor of Virginia, Wednesday by the democratic state convention.

Information has been received by Secretary Babbit, from General Logan and Governor Ogleaby that they can not be present at our state fair in September.

Henry Ward Beecher says it makes little difference to us where General Grant may be buried, and that "no place in all the land can be chosen for his tomb but that will become for years and years and years the very Jerusalem of patriotism."

The cholera is not only increasing in the poorer quarters of Madrid, but is making its way into the streets of the better quarters of the Spanish capital which have hitherto been exempt. King Alfonso has intimated that if the cholera continues to spread in Madrid he will return to that city.

The widow of President James K. Polk, who still lives at Nashville, Tenn., recently said to a correspondent: "I live in my husband's memory. It is my joy to think and talk of his stainless character. At first his administration was not popular on account of the war; but I do think the world is coming to understand the value of his services to the country now."

A dispatch from Mount McGregor says: "One reason Mrs. Grant does not give to the public the letter the general left for her is that it mentions the names of a number of men now living, telling how the general had been deceived by those he supposed to be his friends, and explaining how he was drawn into the meshes of Ward. The letter would make fully eight pages, closely written, of large size writing paper."

Said Pasha, the grand vizier of Turkey, continues to grow worse in his illness. He is now becoming insane. His incapacity delays the Anglo-Turkish negotiations about Egypt. It is rumored that England mediates conferring with the other powers to obtain their endorsement for settling the Egyptian question, without the consent of Turkey, in the event of the failure of the present negotiations on that subject between Great Britian and the porte.

General W. T. Sherman had a caller the other day from Wall street, who asked him, incidentially: "Will you be down on Wall street to-day?" A look of indescribable horror mixed with fun spread over the general's face as he replied: "Bless my soul, no! I never go to Wall street, except to the bank, when I want money. I've got enough in my pocket to get home on, and as long as I have that no Wall street for me."

The annual meeting of the National Dairymen's Association for 1885 has been appointed for the week of the American Fat Stock and Dairy show, which will open in the exposition building, Chicago, November 10-19, 1885. The object of the managers of the National Dairymen's association in appointing for their annual meeting the same time and place as the American Fat Stock and Dairy show was to bring together all the leading dairymen of the country.

Providence Journal: The New York Evening Post, which is very much disturbed because the republican state committee of Massachusetts has selected Senator Hoar to preside over the coming convention, says that "the signs of political progress are, at present, more promising in Mississippi than in Massachusetts. In this view it may have in mind the following amendatory declaration from the Oxford, Miss., Eagle: "No more ballot-box stuffing except in cases of absolute necessity."

President Cleveland last evening, appointed General William T. Sherman, U. S. A.; Lieutenant General Philip H Sheridan, U. S. A.; Admiral David D. Porter, U. S. N; Vice Admiral Stephen C. Rowan, U. S. N.; General Joseph E. Johnston, of Virginia; General Simon B. Buckner, of Kentucky; Hamilton Fish, of New York; George S. Boutwell, of Massachusetts; George W. Childs, of Pennsylvania; John A. Logan, of Illinois; George Jones, of New York, and Oliver Hort, of New York, as the pall bearers for the Grant funeral. The appointment of federal and confederate officers was made at the suggestion of Mrs. Grant.

The salvation army marched Thursday afternoon in London, with much parade to the parliament buildings to present to the house of commons a monster petition urging the immediate passage of the criminal act amendment raising the age of consent in grils from 13 years, the present period, to 18 years. The petition contains 500,000 signatures, and is one mile and a half long. It was borne in a special carriage. The procession was very large, and halted on the Thames embankment, whence a deputation proceeded to the house of commons to present the monster prayer.

All the dishonest bank officials do not hail from the United states; a late cable dispatch from Cork, Ireland, states that the committee of investigation, which is inquiring into the affairs of the suspended Munster bank, reports that Mr. Farquharson, the joint Dublin manager, who has absconded, willfully prevented the bank of Ireland from advancing to the Munster bank a desired loan, which would have enabled it to tide over the crisis, by refusing to give the bank of Ireland the securities intrusted to him with which to obtain the credit, and upon which the bank of Ireland had decided to lend. The police traced the defaulting manager to Northwall, the Dublin landing place for steamers, whence they learned he departed for Holyhead on Tuesday evening last.

Reports from towns in southern Wisconsin show that Wednesday night's wind storm passed entirely across the state, doing considerable damage of minor importance in nearly all the southern tier of counties. The greatest loss will come to farmers from injury to grain but as to the extent of this injury nothing definite can now be learned. In Montford, Grant county, the house of William Hess was blown down. The principal damage reported from Iowa county is at Mineral Point, where the roof of the city hall was demolished, a lumber yard scattered and a number of small barns razed. The wind was particularly fierce in Walworth county crops suffering badly. Hudson suffered some damage. W. H. McDermid lost ten head of blooded stock by lightning. One or two buildings at Roberts Station were blown down.

TIME ANNIHILATED.

MAUD S. PUTS THE TROTTING SPEED UP ANOTHER PEG.

A Mile Made at Cleveland in 2:08 3-4 on the Second Trial—A Bad Break on the First—Other Sporting News.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 31.—Maud S., the peerless queen of the turf, earned her promised retirement at the Glenville track Thursday, breaking her record by a full half second, amid the cheers and wildest applause of 20,000 people. She was brought out about 5 o'clock, and was given a "warming heat," which she made in 2:20. Then a heat of the 2:30 class was had, while Maud was getting her wind and muscle up for her great effort. She was driven to the three-quarter turn and brought down the stretch at a good jog, and when the word was given to go she fairly leaped into the air, seeming to fly upon wings instead of hoods.

She reached the quarter-pole in splendid shape, but here she broke all to pieces and had to be reduced to a walk to bring her down. Bair brought her back, and as she passed the grand-stand she seemed to act as if ashamed of herself.

Another start was made, and the beautiful little mare shot under the wire like a rocket. She preserved this gait all the way round, coming in with her eyes flashing and her breath snorting victory. The shingle was displayed from the judges' stand, bearing the astonishing figures "2:08¾." A terrific shout went up, and a thousand voices screamed, "She's done it."

There were no pools sold on the result of Maud's effort, Mr. Bonner especially requesting that it be not done. The weather and all other conditions were favorable and the enthusiasm was immense.

The first race regular was the 2:30 class. Six heats were trotted and darkness caused its postponement. Vilotte was the favorite, and won two heats. Best time, 2:23¼.

The only other race was a free-for-all, purse $2,000. There were but three entries, Gordon refusing to let Clingstone trot against more than one horse. Harry Wilkes won in three straight heats, Epaulet second, and Jerome Turner third; best time, 2:18. The 2:19 class not reached.

The Thoroughbreds Elsewhere.

MONMOUTH PARK, July 31.—The first race Thursday was ¾ mile; Little Minch first, Sutter second, Pericles third; time, 1:15¾. Second race, ¾ mile; The Bard first, Buffalo second, Charity third; time, 1:16¾. Third race, 1 mile; Katrina first, Richmond second, Lord Beconsfield third; time, 1:43¾. Fourth race, 1¼ miles; Heel-and-Toe first, Jack of Hearts second, Americus third; time, 2:11. Fifth race, ¾ mile; Executor first, Uberto second, Rica third; time, 1:16¼. Sixth race, steeple-chase, over the short course; Wellington first, Echo second, Gonfalon third; time, 3:15¾.

Base Ball.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The following league base ball scores were reported Thursday evening: At Philadelphia—Chicago 2, Philadelphia 0; at New York—Buffalo 1, New York 3; at Boston—Boston 3, Detroit 2; at Providence—St. Louis 2, Providence 4. American association games resulted as follows: At Brooklyn—Athletics 7, Brooklyn 10; at Baltimore—Metropolitans 2, Baltimore 11.

IN THE WEE SMA' HOURS.

An Ohio Criminal Hung at 2:15 in the Morning.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 31.—Wagner, the condemned murderer, was brought to the scaffold at 2:15 a. m. Friday, and had to be carried by the sheriff. He begged piteously, protesting his innocence of any crime. When the trap was sprung, the body shot to a standstill, and not the faintest quiver of a limb or muscle was noticeable. The physician grabbed his wrist for pulsations as soon as the body could be reached, and it was found that death was instantaneous. Not a pulse-beat could be recognized. The body was cut down three minutes after the springing of the trap, and was sent on the 4 a. m. train to Morrow county, accompanied by the family.

Virginia Democratic Convention.

RICHMOND, Va., July 31.—Upon reassembling Thursday morning the Democratic state convention adopted the platform presented by the committee on resolutions, which pledges opposition to an increase of taxation; opposes all further agitation of the state debt question; recommends a change in revenue laws which require speedy settlement by collectors, recommends state supervision over railroads to prevent discriminating charges; advocates complete abolition of internal revenue system; reaffirms the declaration of the national Democratic party in its last convention on the tariff question and commends the administration of President Cleveland, especially his action in removing offensive federal officers in Virginia. It also spurns the charges against the Democratic party embodied in the Republican platform; sets forth what the Democratic party has done for Virginia, and concludes with a severe arraignment of the Republican party.

The ticket was completed, and is as follows: Gen. Fitzhugh Lee for governor, Hon. J. E. Massey for lieutenant governor, and Rufus A. Ayres for attorney general. A resolution eulogistic of Gen. Grant and expressing sympathy for Mrs. Grant was adopted.

The convention adjourned sine die.

ONE MILE AND A HALF

OF PETITION PRESENTED TO THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT,

Containing Half a Million of Signatures —A Salvation Army Demonstration— Farquharson, the Bank Wrecker —Several Foreign Notes.

LONDON, July 31.—The Salvation Army marched Thursday afternoon with much parade to the parliament buildings to present to the house of commons a monster petition urging the immediate passage of the criminal act amendment raising the age of consent in girls from 13 years, the present period, to 18 years. The petition contains 500,000 signatures, and is one mile and a half long. It was borne in a special carriage. The procession was very large and halted on the Thames embankment, whence a deputation proceeded to the house of commons to present the monster prayer.

The procession was headed by a band, followed by the Salvation Army officers on horseback.

The petition was in a huge roll and was carried beneath a canopy erected in a vehicle drawn by four horses in the middle of the procession. The line of march was through the principal streets of London, and the pageant attracted everywhere enormous crowd of people.

In the house of commons, the care of the petition was intrusted Mr. James Stuart, Radical member for Hackney, long distinguished as an educational philanthropist and champion of educational privileges for women. Mr. Stuart at once introduced the matter to the commons. He said the petition asked parliament to raise the age of consent in girls from 13 years to 18, was signed by 500,000 persons, and that such was the popular feeling upon the subject that it had taken but seventeen days to obtain this enormous number of signatures. The vast roll was then moved up to the clerk's desk. He read the petition to the house, holding that part of the document in his hands, the bulk lying on the floor and occupying most of the space in front of the speaker's table.

Was Evidently a Precious Scoundrel.

LONDON, July 31.—It is stated that Farquharson, the defaulting manager of the Munster bank, sailed for Baltimore Thursday from Holyhead on a small vessel chartered solely by himself. Warren Payne, who was recently elected a director of the bank, informed a Central News reporter that it was on account of Farquharson's irregularities that the Bank of Ireland refused to lend the Munster bank the sum required to tide it over its difficulties. The directors of the unfortunate institution are determined to bring the defaulter to justice, and are close upon his track.

Robert Farquharson was joint manager of the Munster bank and had been twelve years in the service of that institution. He was so highly thought of that since the suspension of the bank he has been recommended as official liquidator. The shareholders are furious at his escape. His defalcations may reach $500,000. The first indication of his guilt was found by the bank examiners Tuesday. They were puzzled by a half erased pencil entry and asked him to explain it. He did so in a plausible way but soon after excused himself and left the bank. He took a cab for his house in Leeson park, got some articles of clothing and hurriedly drove away.

It is recalled that $30,000 was stolen from the bank two years ago. A clerk was accused of the theft, but his guilt was not proved. Farquharson was the only other man who had access to the safe containing that money, and it is now believed that he took the amount and tried to convict an innocent man of the robbery.

Hauling Churchill Over the Coals.

LONDON, July 31.—The Standard denounces the action of Lord Randolph Churchill in refusing to speak at the Liverpool meeting because the members from Liverpool had criticised his Irish policy. The Standard describes Churchill as a very much overrated, impudent, overgrown schoolboy, good at insulting his superiors, but otherwise of very ordinary talents. His praises are sung by an interested claque, "but," says The Standard, "it is time for others to speak out. We will not sing the praises nor be bullied by the overgrown schoolboy, verging upon middle age without a man's sense. Lord Salisbury must decide soon, or Lord Churchill, having already worked irreparable harm to the Conservative party, will ruin it altogether." As a parting shot The Standard describes Lord Churchill as a miserable, absurd imitator of Disraeli, without one-fiftieth part of the latter's ability. The article is sure to cause a marked political sensation.

The American Aristocracy Microbe.

LONDON, July 31.—Mr. Matthew Turnbull, of Chicago, has an article in the current number of The Nineteenth Century bewailing the increasing power of the American aristocracy. He says it is idle to deny the existence of such a body, for it is ingrained in the very system of the American government. It is not only legal, but it is clearly established in the constitution of the United States, and a senator in the American congress has twenty times the political power of an English peer, and the senate is the main source of American aristocracy. The only way to check the growth of the system is to stop the supplies of that fountain-head of aristocrats—the American senate.

Had a Monkey and Parrot Time.

PARIS, July 31.—M. Clemenceau, the Radical leader, replied in the chamber of deputies Thursday to M. Ferry's speech of Wednesday, vindicating the late government's colonial policy. M. Clemenceau was very violent in his attacks upon the ex-premier. He was interrupted many times, and the proceedings became disorderly and finally tumultuous. Paul De Cassagnac, for shouting that M. Ferry was an impudent fellow, was reprimanded by the president of the chamber. M. Clovis Hugues, of the extreme left, became engaged in a heated dispute with another member, and the two were on the point of coming to blows when they were separated by other members.

Desperate Fight for Liberty.

MOSCOW, July 31.—Sixty criminals who had been sentenced to exile in Siberia recently, while on their way thither, rose against their guards and, although unarmed, began a desperate fight for liberty. The battle lasted a long time and the soldiers were absolutely unable to conquer their manacled assailants. Twenty of them were shot dead and of the forty remaining, thirty succeeded in making good their escape. Two of the soldiers were wounded during the fight.

Ah Sin Growing Belligerent.

SHANGHAI, July 31.—It is reported that Li Hung Chang has stated that China will declare war against Russia if the latter power pronounces China's interests in Corea.

Will Extend the Quetta Railway.

LONDON, July 31.—In the house of commons Thursday evening Lord Randolph Churchill, secretary of state for India, announced that the government intended to extend the Quetta railway thirty miles further in a northwesterly direction, and possibly as far as Candahar. This statement was greeted with great cheering.

Think They're Cheap Enough.

LONDON, July 31.—The house of commons has rejected the government's bill for the reduction of telegraphic charges.

Gladstone to Go a Sailing.

LONDON, July 31.—Mr. Gladstone sails on Saturday for Norway in Mr. Brassey's yacht, Sunbeam.

HONORS EASY FOR MORRISON.

He Backs a Winner and a Loser in the Race for Office.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 31.—The appointment of State Senator Kelly to be collector of internal revenue for the Quincy district, although anticipated, settles a spirited contest in which Congressman Morrison won a substantial victory. Col. Morrison was not so successful, however, in the struggle for the collectorship of the Aurora district, which, although bitterly contested, fell to the lot of Andrew Welch, mainly through the influence of his Chicago backers. The president was undoubtedly favorably disposed toward Mr. Crouleite, but it became necessary in his opinion to appoint Mr. Welch, as a compromise and thus settle a local quarrel which promised to assume wide proportions.

Other appointments were as follows: To be agents for the Indians—E. C. Osborne, of Tennessee, of the Ponca, Pawnee and Otoe agency, in the Indian territory; Frederick Koonor, of Indiana, of the Osage agency, Indian territory; Jesse Lee Hall, of Texas, to the Kiowa, Comanche and Wichita agency, in the Indian territory; Timothy A. Byrnes, of New Jersey, of the Yakima agency, in Washington territory; B. Z. Moore, of New York, of the Colville agency, in Washington territory. To be registers of land offices—Frank Dale, of Kansas, at Wichita, Kan.; Clate M. Ralstin, of Kansas, at Independence, Kan. John Cadwallader, to be collector of customs for the district of Philadelphia, Pa.; P. Leonce Bonny, to be appraiser of merchandise in the district of New Orleans, La.; A. L. King, of Arkansas, to be receiver of public moneys at Harrison, Ark.; M. D. McHenry, to be receiver of public moneys at Des Moines, Iowa. Collector of internal revenue, Joseph M. Morrow, for the Sixth district of Wisconsin.

To be consuls of the United States: Alexander B. Shipley of New York, at Auckland; J. L. McCaskell of Mississippi, at Dublin; Joseph Falkenbach of Ohio, at Barmen; James Whelan of New York, at Fort Erie, Canada.

THE DEFENSE OF RIEL.

His Counsel Trying to Prove Him Insane —Some Conflicting Testimony.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, July 31.—Green Shields opened the case for the defense in the Riel trial at Regina Thursday. He went into the legal aspect of the case and deemed it right to protest against the selection of a jury by a magistrate appointed by the government. He next reviewed at length the grievances of the half-breeds since the confederation, and dealt with the agitation in 1869. The crowd had laid the blame of the rebellion on Riel's head, but forgot to point out that no head was ever paid by the government to their representations until at last the half-breeds touched a match to the smouldering embers and set the fire going. The defense would show the prisoner to be a raving maniac, having a peculiar form of lunacy known as maglomania. The testimony of experts would be given in proof of this contention. Riel believed himself to be a prophet and wanted to establish a new religion, and also conquer Canada and divide it among the nationalties of Europe.

Rev. Fathers Andre and Fourmond testified to Riel being insane in religious matters. They said that priests were unanimous in their opinion that Riel was a fool in politics and religion, and to discuss them with him was like exhibiting a red rag to a bull. Dr. Roy, superintendent of the Beauport asylum, gave the opinion that Riel was of unsound mind. Dr. Jakes, surgeon of the mounted police, had never seen anything to lead him to believe that Riel was insane. Dr. Wallace also said that Riel was perfectly sane, but thought the prisoner was playing the insanity dodge to help him through his difficulty.

The Liquor War in Iowa.

CRESTON, Iowa, July 31.—A case against a liquor house which holds a permit was decided against it Wednesday by Justice Milligan at Afton. The liquor was ordered spilled, and 100 kegs of beer were destroyed Thursday. Five saloon men enraged at the defeat, are on the war-path, and Wednesday night attacked the prominent prosecuting witness, Dr. Graves, abused another, and called at Prosecuting Attorney Spurrier's house to mob him. He was absent, and they called on Henry Bauer, a florist and prominent prosecuting witness, with a rope. But he was also absent. They left a threatening word with his wife. Two saloon men were arrested and fined Thursday morning. There is great excitement over the matter, and further trouble is feared.

The Sun's Ohio Political Foresight.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Sun's Washington special says: The Ohio Democrats have come to an understanding, and unless the present arrangement is broken Governor Hoadly will be renominated by acclamation and ex-Senator Thurman will be returned to the senate in case the legislature is Democratic. There is good authority for predicting that all factions in the party have agreed to bury the hatchet and to carry on an aggressive and harmonious campaign. All movements in favor of Converse, Geddes, Ward or others are stopped. The party will show a united front, and there is every reason to believe that the full Democratic vote will be polled and the state carried for the party's ticket.

Comes of Good Stock.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 31.—The president has appointed Joseph Nicholson Harris, of Baltimore, to a cadetship at the naval academy at Annapolis, vice the son of the late Lieut. Kislingbury of Arctic fame, who failed to pass the examination for admission. Harris is a descendant of the Nicholson family, four generations of which have been brilliantly represented in the United States navy. Nearly twenty representatives of that family have attained a unusual rank and distinction since the outburst of the revolution. This appointment fills the last vacancy at the academy, and this may be the last cadet appointed during the present administration.

Reopening Old Claims.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 31.—Secretary Manning has issued a circular letter declining to reopen any claims decided under previous administrations unless new and material evidence is produced.

A monument to the memory of Rebecca Nourse, who was hanged at Salem for witchcraft July 19, 1692, was dedicated at Danvers, Mass., Thursday, in the presence of a large gathering of her descendants.

LOOKED ON HER DEAD.

MRS. GRANT PAYS A VISIT TO THE CHAMBER OF DEATH.

A Letter from the Bereaved Wife Placed in the Dead Soldier's Pocket—The Storm's Requiem—An Unreconstructed "Reb."—Dr. Shrady's Report—The Pall Bearers.

MT. MCGREGOR, July 31.—At 10 o'clock Thursday morning Mrs. Grant viewed the remains of the general for the first time since his death. Mrs. Sartoris and Mrs. Fred Grant were with Mrs. Grant. The bereaved wife was perfectly calm and did not give vent to the deep emotion which she must have experienced. Dr. Newman asserts that the packet which Col. Grant placed within a pocket of the coat on the dead general's body before the coffin was sealed, contained a letter from Mrs. Grant in reply to the one which the general left for her to read after his death. It also contained a lock of her hair. Her letter is described as very pathetic and closes with the words: "Farewell until we meet again." The ring placed on the general's finger by Col. Grant after death was one which Mrs. Grant gave him twenty years ago. It became rather small for him, and he had of late carried it in his pocketbook.

At 4 p. m. the cottage was thrown open for visitors from Saratoga and the guests of the hotel here to obtain a view of the dead general, and for an hour two lines of people poured through the room in which the body lay. About 500 persons were admitted in that time.

It has been discovered that one of the principals employed in the embalming process of Gen. Grant was approached Thursday by a man who said he was a profound admirer of the illustrious dead, and was prepared to offer a handsome thing for a moment of him, and without more ado deliberately offered his listener as large a fee as he would ask for a lock of the general's hair. It was indignantly refused, when the man speedily disappeared. A careful search has failed to discover his identity.

At 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening a terrific stroke of lightning ran along the telegraph wires which are strung under the archway running from the Hotel Balmoral to the railroad station. The archway passes in front of the Grant cottage, which is 130 feet distant. Gen. R. H. Jackson, of Fort Niagara, Col. W. Butler Beck, Company A, Fifth artillery, Governors Island, were walking to the depot and were directly in front of the cottage when they were knocked senseless to the plank flooring. A Mrs. Fox, of Philadelphia, stopping at the Congress Park place at Saratoga, was walking near them. She was also knocked unconscious.

Gen. Jackson in falling slightly cut his head, and was unconscious for twenty minutes. Mrs. Fox recovered in fifteen minutes and was all right, and the others will be in a short time. Several of the soldiers were slightly shocked. All the telegraph wires on the mount were prostrated, and the wall of the dining-room of the hotel blackened.

The lightning struck the roof of the Grant cottage and knocked several shingles and some plastering off. It also struck the Artell cottage in precisely the same manner. Veteran Krapp, of the G. A. R., who was on duty in the room with the casket, was severely shocked. The fluid melted one of the electric light wires and extinguished the light.

Taken in connection with the fact that lightning struck a tree close to the tomb in course of construction in Riverside park, New York, Wednesday, the workmen having a narrow escape, this would seem to be a remarkable coincidence.

DR. SHRADY'S STATEMENT.

An Article on the Cause, Progress, and Treatment of Gen. Grant's Fatal Affliction.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The subjoined are extracts from an article by Dr. Shrady, on the surgical and pathological aspects of Gen. Grant's case, which will appear in The Medical Record of Saturday. The treatment will be more elaborately described hereafter. Dr. Shrady says:

It is not definitely known when the throat trouble commenced, but probably in June, 1884, as at that time Gen. Grant first complained of soreness in the tonsillar region. On March 7, when I first saw the patient in consultation with Drs. Barker, Douglas and Sands, it was found that the surfaces of the right tonsillar region and adjoining portion of the vault of the pharynx were covered with a thick yellow exudation resembling sloughing tissue. This deposit was evidently the result of an acute process engrafted upon the original disease, and partook of many of the characters of a diphtheratic membrane. This view of the complication explains many of the grave symptoms which were subsequently associated with great prostration, but which were not directly traceable to the progress of the epithetromatous degeneration.

The progress of the local disease was a steady one from the beginning. The loss of the palate and adjacent soft parts, with the consequent lack of perfect control of the tongue, occasioned great difficulty in swallowing. Just before he was transferred to Mt. McGregor he rather suddenly lost his voice, never to regain it. This was due partly to the thickening of the vocal chords by the inflammatory infiltration, and partly to a relaxation of the parts from general weakness.

A brief summary of the treatment is all that will be necessary to give now. Early in the disease, in order to eliminate every possible chance of error in diagnosis, the patient was placed under specific treatment, although the clinical history of the case gave only negative indications of its necessity. This treatment, although continued for a sufficient period, produced no effect in healing the ulcerations or in arresting the progress of the disease. Iodoform was used as a local application to the ulcer, as well as gargles composed of salt water, diluted carbolic acid, solutions of permanganate of potash and yeast. A 4 per cent. solution of cocaine was occasionally applied to the painful parts with happy results, but it was never employed to such excess as is generally believed by the public, nor were there any bad effects manifested from its administration. The latter were carefully guarded against, with the full knowledge that the drug was a new one, and that only its cautious use was admissible. Red clover was given quite as constantly, but produced no effect upon the local disease. It only proved itself useful as a laxative, and was so employed as being the least harmful of medicines of its sort for continuous administration.

The diagnosis given early in the case was proved to be correct by the microscope, by the clinical history of the patient, and by the fatal issue. The disease had a much shorter course than usual, owing to the prostration of the patient's system dependent in a great measure upon other causes.

The cause of the disease in this case is largely conjectural. Epithelomia, as a rule, starts from local irritation, and, unlike other forms of cancer, is not dependent upon hereditary predisposition to the disease. There must, however, aside from this, be a latent tendency toward cancerous troubles, which is more prominent in some individuals than in others, otherwise we should be unable to explain why simple and continued irritation would induce the disease in one case and not in another. It is, however quite probable that the irritation of smoking was the active cause of the cancer in Gen. Grant's case, or at least it is fair to presume that he would not have had the disease if his habit had not been carried to excess. This assumption is made in face of the fact that of thousands who smoke but a very small proportion suffer from the disease.

Although there was more or less constant pain of a gnawing character, the patient was happily spared that agony of suffering which is often associated with the invasion of the deeper parts of the tongue by cancerous disease. Had the latter occurred it was proposed to divide the sensitive nerve of the tongue (gustatory) through the mouth, which operation oftentimes gives absolute relief. Such pain as existed, however, was kept under control by cocaine and morphine, so that the last wish of the patient that his death should be a peaceful one was fully realized.

Preparations in New York.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Gen. Hancock says it is impossible to change the programme of the trip from Albany, so as to have a naval procession, the time is so short. He is rapidly completing arrangements for the funeral.

The estimate of 125,000 men in line made Thursday was increased to 133,000 Friday, and on the day of the funeral the actual number will probably be 160,000. The funeral procession will start from the city hall early on Saturday morning, and it will take most of the day to pass in line the vast number of military organizations already booked. The temporary tomb in Riverside park is fully eight and a half miles from the city hall, and the procession will travel at about the rate of two miles an hour, requiring at least four hours for the body to reach the tomb after leaving the city hall. The funeral services will have been ended and the body laid away long before the rear of the procession can leave the city hall.

Thursday morning Gen. Hancock sent the following dispatch:

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, July 30, 1885.—GEN. WILLIAM T. SHERMAN, U. S. A., FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL, NEW YORK CITY: Your note of yesterday received. I wrote you last night the time I would leave for Mt. McGregor, on Aug. 2, via New York Central, at 9:15 p. m. A special section will be reserved in the sleeping-car for you. The societies of the Army of the Cumberland and of the Tennessee, and all other sister societies will be duly placed in reportal. I will be glad if you will take the matter relating to the societies of the Army of the Cumberland and Tennessee under your charge. W. S. HANCOCK, Mayor General, U. S. A.

The National Monument.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The monument executive committee met in Mayor Grace's office Thursday afternoon. Letters were read in sympathy with the movement. A check for $1,000 was received from George Ehret and smaller amounts from other sources. The following memorial was issued:

The family of Gen. Grant, having chosen New York as his final resting place, the mayor and people of that city desire that a great national monument shall be erected, which will fitly honor his memory.

To promote this object the mayor of New York has designated a local committee to inaugurate a movement to procure the necessary fund. In due time appropriate action will be taken for the organization of committees which shall represent the entire country.

The committee asks all newspapers, railways, telegraph and express companies, postmasters, banks and bankers, church and municipal authorities, commercial bodies and exchanges—manufacturing and business—to co-operate in the immediate collection of contributions, to be forwarded to Drexel, Morgan & Co., New York, for this committee, or to the mayor of New York. Certificates will be sent to all contributors. The memorial is signed by Chester A. Arthur, William R. Grace, Hamilton Fish and R. T. Crosbee.

The Pall Bearers Appointed.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 31.—The president having been requested by Mrs. Grant to name the pall bearers for Gen. Grant's funeral, he has appointed the following: Gen. William T. Sherman, Lieut. Gen. Phillip H. Sheridan, Admiral David D. Porter, Vice Admiral Stephen C. Rowan, Gen. Joseph E. Johnston (of Virginia), Gen. Simon B. Buckner (of Kentucky), Hamilton Fish, George S. Boutwell, George W. Childs, John A. Logan, George Jones, (of New York), and Oliver Hoyt (of New York).

President Cleveland, accompanied by the members of his cabinet, Col. Lamont and Marshal McMichael will leave Washington for New York on Friday, Aug. 7, to attend Gen. Grant's funeral. The party will stay at the Fifth Avenue hotel in New York. President Cleveland will not return to Washington, but will go from New York to the Adirondacks for a month's vacation.

Chicago's Arrangements.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The committee selected by Mayor Harrison to take charge of the ceremonies in honor of Gen. Grant on the day of his funeral met at the mayor's office Thursday afternoon and decided that the funeral of the dead soldier should be observed by a procession of the various civic and military organizations of the city.

Several hundred newsboys with their friend Col. Alexander Hogeland marched to the city hall Thursday afternoon to express their respect for Gen. Grant. The mayor was called for, but he was absent. Chief of Police Doyle appeared and spoke briefly on the death of the great general. The boys passed resolutions of condolence and regret at the sad close of the "old commander's" career.

Not Reconstructed Yet.

SPARTA, Ga., July 31.—A newspaper published here continued, Thursday morning, an article condemning southern laudation of Gen. Grant, and stating that honest-hearted people care as much about Gen. Grant's death as they would about that of a Jersey bull.

Gould Threatened with a Strike.

WACO, Tex., July 31.—The Gould railroad system in Texas is threatened with a strike on Aug. 1 unless the present working hours are reduced to ten. The executive committee of the Workingmen's association calls upon all employes of the Missouri Pacific and its leased lines, including the Texas Pacific railway, to absolutely refrain from working over ten hours per day in any department, either day or night, except in cases of emergency, and then only when one and one half time is allowed for such work.

Ex-President Harrison's Tomb.

CINCINNATI, July 31.—The tomb of ex-President Harrison is in a sadly neglected condition and is rapidly crumbling to pieces. An appeal has been issued for subscriptions to a fund for the erection of a proper monument over the grave.

Not So Bad as Reported.

DELPHI, Ind., July 31.—The dispatch sent from here, Wednesday, giving an account of an accident on the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railroad, near this place, was an exaggeration of the facts. The total loss will not exceed $1,000.

Fanny Davenport Sues for Libel.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Fanny Davenport, the actress, and her husband, Edwin H. Price, made application to Justice Smith Thursday, for the arrest of William Cauldwell, publisher of The Sunday Mercury, for criminal libel. Under the heading "A Dramatic Tempest," The Mercury on July 19 purported to describe an altercation between Fanny Davenport and Mme. Selina Dolaro, alleged to have taken place in the office of Harrison Gray Fiske, editor of The New York Mirror, and proceeded to report in detail a scandal involving Mrs. Price, and saying that it had caused a separation between her and Mr. Price. It is claimed there was not a word of truth in the story from beginning to end. Harrison Gray Fiske has also brought an action against Cauldwell. Certain western papers reprinted The Mercury article, and Mr. Price will proceed against the editors as soon as possible.

One Strike Virtually Ended.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 31.—The strike in the Mahoning valley is virtually ended. Brown, Bonnell & Co.'s mills will soon start up again.

Many Germans of Detroit, who have been intrusting their savings to Charles H. Borgman, of that city, for investment, have been startled by the discovery that the signatures to the deeds and mortgages given by him are forgeries. The magnitude of the losses has not been ascertained.

A Wonderful Story.

Consumptives and all, who suffer from any affection of the throat and lungs, can find a certain cure in Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Thousands of permanent cures verify the truth of this statement. No medicine can show such a record of wonderful cures. Thousands of once hopeless sufferers now gratefully proclaim they owe their lives to this new discovery. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. Free trial bottles at F. The Indianapolis Postoffice.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 31.—Civil Service Commissioner Thoman and Examiner Lyman continued their investigation Thursday of the charges against Postmaster Jones. They confined themselves to the record and have so far examined no witnesses. The Independents who filed the charges have submitted an answer to Jones' denial. They say they have rather understated than overstated what Jones has said and done. A good many Democrats, including most of the friends of Vice President Hendricks, are hoping that the investigation will result in Jones' removal, thinking it would solidify the party against Cleveland, and other cause him to change his course or else bring all the "mossback" Democrats into line as supporters of Hendricks for the nomination in 1888.

The result of the investigation will be announced from Washington.

A Necessity of Health.

It is a prime necessity of health that the action of the bowels should be kept regular. But the way to overcome a temporary fit of constipation, or to remedy chronic costiveness, is not to deluge the stomach and drench the bowels with purgatives of violent and painful action. The happy medium between an inoperative and violent cathartic is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which acts just sufficiently upon the bowels to relax them, without pain, and which being a wholesome tonic, as well as aperient, has the effect of strengthening both them and the stomach, and promoting the wellbeing of the whole internal economy. The removal of bile from the blood, increased activity of the liver, usually dormant in cases of costiveness, and sound digestion follows the use of this beneficent medicine, as thorough and genial in its effects as it is safe and pure in composition. Rheumatism, fever and ague, kidney troubles and debility are also remedied by it.

Prentice & Evenson distinctly state that Acker's English remedy has and does cure contracted consumption. Ask for circular. An entirely new medicine, guaranteed

A MEDICAL CAPSULERY.

Some Curious Facts About a Large Business Which Is Little Known.

[New York Mail and Express.]

An old-fashioned, unpretentious-looking house, which sets back from the sidewalk on a comparatively unfrequented portion of one of the oldest down-town streets, is occupied by a manufactory whose goods are known throughout the civilized world, and have become indispensable to the medical profession. It is a medical capsulery. For nearly fifty years it has occupied this old building, and the sign that contains the firm's name is so old and weatherbeaten that its paint is completely worn off, leaving only the faint outlines of the original lettering. "Yes, we make gelatine capsules here," said the proprietor to a reporter, "and though you may not think it, in this old building and another that we occupy, the capacity of our factory exceeds the production of 1,000,000 capsules a day. There are only three firms in this country that give their time to the exclusive manufacture of gelatine capsules. Great improvements have been made in these little but most important articles to all sick persons, and now by their use people can take the most nauseous compounds free from either taste or smell. We make capsules of all sizes, round and oblong, from the very small article which only holds a drop of liquid to the large oblong one, the size of a dynamite cartridge almost, which can hold an ounce. This latter is only used for horses and large animals, but it is a great thing for them, as it does away with the old-fashioned method of administering medicine to animals by pouring it from a bottle and almost breaking the animal's jaw in the operation."

"When were capsules first thought of?" was asked.

"Mr. A. Mathes, of Paris, may be considered their inventor. He obtained a patent for the exclusive right of manufacturing them about seventy years ago. In 1836 the founder of this house began their manufacture in this city. Within the last twenty-five years empty capsules have been introduced and have proved most acceptable administering powders and medicines which irritate the throat or injure the teeth. Of course the value of the ready-filled capsules depends entirely upon the honesty of the manufacturer, for the capsules being closed they cannot be as easily examined as other medicines which are open to a ready test as to purity, and impure and adulterated ingredients are as easily put into them as pure material. In this way the public has been duped by unprincipled parties, and often a distrust awakened injurious to the universal use of capsules."

"Do you send your capsules out of the United States?"

"Oh, yes. We have a large trade in Mexico, Cuba, South America, and even in China and Japan. The manufacture of them has been so improved of late years that no influence of climate can deteriorate their quality, and they hold good for any length of time, though of course they must be properly cared for. They are made with a hard and soft material, and come in boxes which contain from a dozen to 1,000."

Emperor Wilhelm.

[Berlin Cor. New York Sun.]

Soldiers, officers, anything or any one belonging to his beloved army are privileged with Emperor Wilhelm, but his love does not exclude a strong sense of justice and a severe enforcement of discipline. Latterly some soldiers of the landwehr, or reserve, all well-to-do, rich, influential burgesses, rebelled at the injunction to enter baggage wagons, and absolutely refused to travel in them. They referred the case to the emperor by telegraph, ending their statement by these words: "What does your majesty command us to do?" The answer came, prompt and curt, "Obey," and the delinquents had to answer before a military tribunal for their insubordination.

The body servant of the emperor, the oldest of all his old retainers, the faithful Engel, is a septuagenarian. His master treats him with playful familiarity, using to him the friendly du, and never fails when he enters the room in the morning to inquire after his health. He is far less strong and robust than the aged monarch, and one day last winter he regretedly informed his majesty that he must soon retire from service; that every man could not be as everlastingly hale as the emperor, and that he needed rest. William responded with a laugh: "Engel, thou and I have not the time to rest," and nothing more was said.

The emperor neither smokes nor takes snuff. He uses a short-sighted eye-glass to read and write only, and will not own that his eyes are weaker. He sleeps, like a boy, soundly and peacefully. He likes a joke, and with his inferiors is most considerately kind, buying himself little presents for each of his servants at Christmas. The other day he missed a lady's maid, whom he was wont to see about the empress daily. On inquiry he was told she had a day's leave of absence to visit her family, as it was her birthday. The next morning, meeting her, the emperor gave her a trifle, adding, "I am late with my congratulations, Mein Kind."

Paint Put in Pepper.

[Chicago Herald.]

"I dislike to see you eat cayenne pepper," said a wholesale grocer to a freind who was putting the stuff on some raw oysters. "Why?" said the friend. The grocer dusted a little of the pepper on the open page of his notebook and drew his finger over it. A number of small red lines showed where grains of pepper had been drawn over the paper. "Because half of this stuff is not pepper. The real article, pure and strong, comes from the West Indies. It is regularly adulterated for resturant use by mixing it with rice, flour and ground mustard husks which have been colored red with red lead. These red lines on the paper are pure red paint."

A STRANGE DISEASE

WHICH CAME UNDER THE NOTICE OF A NATURALIST IN JAVA.

One of the Curious Characteristics of the Disease Called "Lata"—Involuntary Imitation—Some Queer Cases —The Will-Power Gone.

[H. O. Forbes, F. R. G. S.]

The first thing of interest to attract me within a few hours of my arrival at Kosala, in Java, was a case in one of the servants of the house of that curious cerebral affection called by the natives "lata." It is of a hysterical nature, and is confined chiefly to women, although I have also seen a man affected by it. On being startled or excited suddenly the person becomes lata, losing the control of her will, and can not refrain from imitating whatever she may hear or see done, and will keep calling out as long as the fit lasts, the name—and generally that word alone—of whatever has flashed through her mind as the cause of it: "He-ih-heh, matjan!" (tiger); "he-ih-heh boorung besar!" (a great bird). Her purpose will be arrested, as, if walking, she will stop short, and, on going on again, will often follow some other course.

The prefatory exclamation is an invariable symptom, seemingly caused by involuntary hysterical inspirations. According to the degree of alarm the symptoms may remain only a few moments or last for the greater part of a day, especially if the person be prevented from calming down. The afflicted, if not seriously affected, are not altogether incapacitated from performing the little duties to which they are accustomed. The most curious characteristic of the disease is their imitation of every action they see. On one occasion, while eating a banana, I suddenly met this servant with a piece of soap in her hand, and perceiving she was slightly lata, but without appearing to take any notice of her, I made a vigorous bite of the fruit in passing her, an action she instantly repeated on a piece of soap.

On another occasion, while she was looking on as I placed some plants in drying paper, not knowing that caterpillars were objects of supreme abhorrence to the natives, I flicked off in a humorous way on her dress one that happened to be on a leaf; she was instantly intensely lata, and, throwing off all her clothing, she made off like a chased deer along the mountain road, repeating the word for caterpillar as she ran, until compelled by exhaustion to stop, when the spasm gradually left her. My own "boy," who would unconcernedly seize all sorts of snakes in his hands, became one day lata also on suddenly touching a large caterpillar.

My host's maid once, while alone at some distance from the house, having come unexpectedly on a large lizard, the Baiawak, was siezed by a paroxysm; dropping down on her hands and knees to imitate the reptile, she thus followed it through mud, water, and mire to the tree in which it took refuge, where she was arrested and came to herself. Another case which came under my knowledge was more tragic in its results. This woman, startled by treading in a field on one of the most venomous snakes in Java, became so lata that she vibrated her finger in imitation of the tongue of the reptile in front of its head till the irritated snake struck her, and the poor creature died within an hour.

During the attack the eyes have a slightly unnatural stare, but there is never a total loss of consciousness, and throughout the paroxysm the patient is wishful to get away from the object affecting her, yet is without the strength of will to escape or to cease acting in the way I have described. Lata persons are constantly teased by their fellows, and are often kept in an excited state for whole days.

Electrifying a Sick Hyena's Nerves.

[Chicago News.]

"Hyena" is the conspicuous sign on one of the menagerie cages of the South Side Dime museum, but the cage is empty. Three weeks ago the eyes of the spotted occupant began to roll deliriously, and, scorning the dago pies and other delicacies that were introduced into the cage as remedies, he laid down in the sawdust to die. After he had remained in a palsied condition for two weeks and more, a scientific man happened along in the freak-seeing crowd. "Why don't you give him a shock of that electric business down-stairs," he suggested to the keeper. The keeper told the piano-player, the piano-player told the glass-blower, and the glass-blower told the press agent. "Just the thing," exclaimed the latter, but the manager said: "No; let him alone; he's only afraid the cholera is coming. He'll be up in a day or two."

Unfortunately, the manager's word did not go farther than the box-office. The other day, while there was a lull in the life of the place, the keeper and a couple of confederates sneaked up-stairs with the galvanic battery, which electrifies your nerves at 5 cents a shock, and is advertised to tell your fortune in the bargain. The cage door was opened just enough to permit the placement of the battery. The almost insensible hyena was dragged up to the bars by the nape of the neck. One handle was tied in his paw. The other was stuck between his teeth. The current was thrown open, and the switch-bar run up to 900 at one dash.

A shriek that would have resurrected a necropolis, a single bound to the top of the cage, and the hyena fell dead on the battery. The monkeys chattered, the jack-daw laughed hysterically, and the museum attaches all scampered down to the ground floor. A delegation of pale-faced men waited on the manager and imparted the news. "I know it," he replied philosophically, "$100 for an electrical experiment that Ben Franklin would have made on a dying cat."

The corpse of the hyena was buried in the alleyway at midnight.

In Ivory and Gold.

[Chicago Herald.]

The city house which Mr. J. C. Flood is building in San Francisco will be a very extensive structure, like those of Governor Stanford and the Crockers. One room will be done in ivory and gold. The cost is fabulous. At one time Mr. Flood would not hear of having it done, but the architect finally prevailed, and he will be allowed to carry out the original plans. He has furnished complete drawings—one may say paintings—of every room, just as it will appear when finished—some two years hence.

Effects of Rapid Breathing.

[Arkansaw Traveler.]

The anæsthetic effect of rapid breathing—like that of inhaling nitrous oxide—is ascribed by Dr. Bonwill to the influence of the surplus of oxygen thus forced upon the lungs. In a variety of cases remarkable insensibility to pain, without appreciable loss of consciousness, has been produced, in one instance a boy of 11, after breathing rapidly about a minute, having had four permanent molars removed, the operation being painless and lasting twenty seconds.

[Foreign Letter.]

As soon as the oil is received at the warehouse, it is placed temporarily in tanks and earthenware jars to settle. New oil from the country is always thick, and in winter time generally congealed; after having been allowed to remain undisturbed for six or eight days it is, if still congealed, slightly heated before being placed in the filters, in a large tin-lined pan, with a double bottom or jacket, through which steam is made to circulate. Thus the oil does not come into contact with fire, but is generally warmed by steam until it is quite fluid. The oil filter is a rectangular wooden tank, lined inside with tin, and it is divided into two compartments, an upper and a lower one.

The oil is pumped into the upper compartment, and is allowed to filter through perfectly clean carded cotton—brought here from Malta, and preferred to any other on account of its purity—into the second or lower compartment, when it has again to pass through another layer of cotton, and finally comes out into a tank placed beneath the filter, from which, if perfectly bright, it is pumped into large marble lined tanks, holding about fifty tons of oil each. If the oil is not perfectly bright it is passed through the filters again and again until it becomes so. As a rule, however, oil, particularly if of the finest quality, becomes perfectly bright after one filtering. In the large tanks the oil is allowed to remain undisturbed until required for exportation, whether for Great Britain or the United States of America.

NOW IS THE TIME TO CURE SKIN HUMORS.

It is at this season when the Pores are clogged and the Blood and Perspiration are laden with Impurities and disfiguring Humors, Humiliating Eruptions, Itching Tortures, Salt Rheum or Eczema, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Baby Humors, Scrofula, Scrofulous Sores, Abscesses, and discharging wounds, and every species of Itching, Scaly and Pimply Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, are most speedily and economically cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES,

IT IS A FACT.

Hundreds of letters in our possession (copies of which may be had by return mail) are our authority for the assertion that Skin, Scalp and Blood Humors, whether Scrofulous, Inherited or Contagious, may NOW be permanently cured by CUTICURA RESOLVENT the new Blood Purifier, internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, the great Skin Cures and Beautifiers, externally, in one half the time and expense of any other season.

GREATEST ON EARTH.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, externally.

J. W. ADAMS, Newark, Ohio.

GREAT BLOOD MEDICINES.

The half has not been told as to the great curative powers of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I have paid hundreds of dollars for medicines to cure diseases of the blood and skin, and never found anything yet to equal the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

They left on the noon train for the north.

—Louis Daly, son of Mrs. Mary Daly, while riding on a handcar near the Monterey Mills last evening, in company with two other boys, struck a rail, which had been laid across the track, with such force that it threw all from the car. Daly had his left arm broked near the wrist, and the other boys were more or less bruised. Daly is only sixteen years of age, and resides with his mother, on Pearl street, first ward.

—When the weary brain is rocked in fancy's cradle, the golden slumbers of contentment dispel the grievances and vexations that form the retinue of stern reality, and clothe all things in the refreshing beauty of a summer landscape silvered with moonlight; the clash and clamor that distract the waking spirit are changed to sweetest music and harmonized with the song of the morning stars. But let Discontent place his foot on the rocker and the outlook is as dreary as if obtained through the port-hole of an old-fashioned three-decker ploughing a stormy sea under false colors.—Unity.

—Some of our art critics are quite severe on Nast's portrait of General Grant in the current number of Harper's Weekly. One point is the nose of the great hero, which the artist will insist on making appear more like "Boss" Tweed's. Our critic claims that Nast has but the one style of "nose" which he puts on the face of nearly every prominent man he caricatures. We will lay down our drawing pencil while Nast is at work, yet insist with our critic, that the wrong nose is on Grant in this portrait.

—Mr. Cyrus Miner, treasurer of the late fourth of July celebration committee, informed us to-day that he would make his report for publication as soon as those who collected the funds reported to him the names of subscribers and the amounts paid. So far but one member of the finance committee has reported. Mention of this matter is suggested from a communication received at this office to-day asking the reason for the delay of the treasurer's report, as promised the the people when the collections were made.

—The Western Union Telegraph Company, at a meeting held on the 29th inst., resolved to subscribe the sum of $5,000 toward the fund for a monument to General Grant. It also resolved that the managers of the offices of the company should be instructed to receive subscriptions to the fund from the public. Manager M. W. Hamblin is now prepared to accept such contributions and give informal receipts therefor, which receipts will be subsequently replaced by formal receipts from the committee of the Grant monument association, which has been appointed by the mayor of New York city. This will be convenient for societies and organizations who wish to make remittances for the fund.

—It seems strange, that after so many exposes, the lightning rod fiend continues to find victims; yet no sooner are they exposed and driven from one section than they appear in another with a scheme to swindle the honest tillers of the soil. The latest comes from a Pennsylvania town: "A dashy and talkative individual, who travels under the name of Adam Wilson, has reaped quite a harvest by swindling the gullible farmers of Somerset, Fayette and Bedford counties by taking orders for lightning rods and weather vanes, to be supplied by the International Manufacturing company, of Chicago, which concern has no existence. The scamp, who is represented as being of handsome exterior and finely dressed, managed to secure advanced payments to the extent of between $5,000 and $8,000, and the investors have received no return for their money.

—Postmaster Sam. Allen started from Johnstown this morning for Milwaukee with a foundling which he proposed placing in good hands there. Fortunately for the child, he took Mrs. Sam. along with him, and by the time they reached Janesville her heart had become so warmed towards the sweet child that she resolutely declared "she wouldn't go another step toward Milwaukee with it." Sam has been acquainted with the lady long enough to know that when she said she wouldn't, she wouldn't, and she didn't. To tell the honest truth, the child had crept into Sam's own heart to that extent that he wanted no more than half a chance to say, Adam like, "The woman did it," to suspend his journey. So having business in this city, he left Mrs. Sam and the baby at Janesville and came down, and he hadn't been here an hour before he found two or three homes and two or three pairs of hearts ready and anxious to take the little darling in. The curious part of it all is that when talking with Sam about it, he seemed considerably put out because there were those who were ready to relieve him of the charge. If Sam had a million dollars, nothing would give him more real pleasure and happiness than to pick a little baby off his door step every morning, and Mrs. Sam,—she'd always have a supply of soothing syrup in the house.—Beloit Free Press.

The Board of Education.

The school commissioners held an adjourned meeting last evening at the common council chambers, at which all the commissioners were present except Commissioners Bowles and Miner.

Clerk Wilson read the application of Prof. George De Clark, of Chicago, for the superintendency of our public schools. Placed on file.

The clerk read a number of bills against the school fund, mostly for repairs on buildings and grounds. The bills were referred to the finance committee, found correct and duly audited.

The resignation of Commissioner Whiting causing a vacancy on the finance committee, the president appointed Commissioner Smith a member of that committee.

Considerable time was occupied in discussing the propriety of repairing the cisterns at the high school building, and without taking action the matter was deferred.

The routine work being disposed of, the question of proceeding to ballot for a superintendent was discussed at some length, the majority being in favor of again adjourning until Saturday evening to give all the commissioners an opportunity to be present.

On motion of Commissioner Smith the board adjourned until 8:30 o'clock on Saturday evening, with the understanding that at that time the board would ballot for superintendent, and proceed to elect the other teachers for the high school, designate the school year, the length of the terms, and of the vacations, etc.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 75 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 95 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with west wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 61 and 81 degrees above zero.

LAKESIDE ASSEMBLY

Interesting Attractions, Scenes and Incidents.

Increased Attendance—The Programme for Saturday.

[From our regular correspondent.]

LAKESIDE, July 30, 1885.

This forenoon the Meigs quartette gave the last of a series of excellent concerts. These concerts have been thus far foremost among the attractions, and the singers have deservedly won the unbounded applause of the assembly, who will ever be glad to welcome them again.

The Rev. Olin A. Curtis, of Milwaukee, also entertained an eager audience by an interesting lecture upon "Paradise Found."

Last evening, Wallace Bruce, of New York, lectured upon "The Landmarks of Walter Scott"; which was an elegant tribute upon Scotland and its men. Mr. Bruce is unequalled. The words of Scott and Burns, were, by him, clothed with a hitherto unknown beauty and indescribable pathos.

After Mr. Bruce's lecture, Prof. W. J. Marshall gave a stereoptican exhibition which was set for Wednesday evening, but was postponed till last night. Prof. Marshall has been a close observer in his travels and upon the canvass is made to glow all the infinite colors and beauties of the Yellowstone park, and calls forth from the audience involuntary expressions of surprise and admiration. To-night he lectures upon Colorado. The news from the signal service that a cold wave was approaching, was greeted with enthusiasm.

After the lecture, the Goshen military band embarked on a steamboat, and plying to and fro sent floating over the water, the beautiful music, which has made for the band its reputation. The steamer was one mass of Chinese lanterns, and down into seemingly unfathomable depths of calm Monona, a colored light seemed to pierce, till it gradually faded away in the depths. The thousands who viewed the spectacle from the lake banks will long remember that scene.

Some faint idea of the number of people here may be gained from the fact that two excellent wells are kept pumped dry to supply drinking water for the people, and yesterday afternoon quite a water famine prevailed.

To-morrow, if former precedents are to be considered, the ground will be thronged with children.

The gate receipts yesterday were $712. The boarding houses are crowded and some time necessitates the setting of three tables.

The camp is now thoroughly settled with the exception of tents for accommodation of transients which are continually being put up.

Sunday, the grounds will not be open for admission.

Monday will be a very interesting day, prominent among the features of which will be a lecture upon "Evolution and Moral Evil," in the afternoon, and a lecture upon Franklin's Kite, or electrical story and phenomena.

The chorus class, numbering 350, are preparing some grand music, under the direction of Prof. Sherwin.

To-morrow's programme will be as follows:

SATURDAY, AUGUST 1.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

6:30 a. m.—Devotional service. C. B. Willis.
8:00 a. m.—Children's class. Rev. N. B. C. Love. Class in New Testament Greek. Dean A. A. Wright.
9:00 a. m.—Normal class. "The history in the Bible."
Chorus class. Prof. W. F. Sherwin.
10:30 a. m.—Meeting of the children at Chautauqua hall. Normal Bible lecture. "The New Testament a Revelation of Christ; Doctrines of Christ and the relations of facts to doctrines." Dean A. A. Wright, Boston.
11:00 a. m.—Grand procession of children. Entertainment at the tabernacle. Miss Lydia M. Von Finkelstein, of Palestine, assisted by her brother in elegant and beautiful representations of life in Palestine.
2:00 p. m.—Entertainment. The Goshen band.
2:30 p. m.—Thermacle lecture for the children. Prof. W. C. Richards, of Chicago. "The Wonderland of science," with a series of beautiful experiments.
4:00 p. m.—Lecture before the institute of philosophy. The Rev. R. M. Webster, of Sheboygan, Wis. "The Penalty of Law in the Government of God." Chorus class. Prof. W. S. Sherwin.
5:00 p. m.—Fifth C. L. S. C. Roundtable.
7:00 p. m.—Normal class. Method of instruction. "Approach and Attention."
8:00 p. m.—Grand vocal and instrumental concert, under the direction of Prof. W. F. Sherwin.

Your Friends Will Never Tell You but perhaps somebody, who isn't your friend, will, that your presence is rendered offensive by the foul, fetid smell of your breath. Every word you utter, though it be the very echo of wisdom and poetry, disgusts your hearers, and your laugh is productive of anything but mirth to them. It is a duty you owe, not only to yourself, but to society to remove the cause of the offense. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will heal the diseased mucous membrane, will bring relief to yourself and others. Do not hesitate to employ it.

OBITUARY.

THOMAS B. HARRISON.

Mr. Thomas B. Harrison, who had been confined to his home on William street, Second ward, for nearly a year, died last evening, aged sixty-five years. Deceased was born at Whitby, England, October 20th, 1820, and came to Janesville in 1849, residing here ever since. He was a painter, and as such had been in business here at various times, but of later years, however, he worked as a journeyman. He was a man of few pretensions, a hard and industrious worker, attending strictly to his own affairs, and did not mingle much with people outside his regular business. His wife preceded him to the other world some years ago, and with the exception of an adopted daughter, he leaves no family.

The funeral will be held on Sunday next, the hour being not yet named.

MRS. C. C. LAWTON.

Death came unexpectedly at half-past twelve o'clock this noon, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Perrigo, on Ruger avenue, and claimed for a victim Mrs. C. C. Lawton. For many months Mrs. Lawton has been in feeble health, although able to be about the house until this morning, when she was stricken with paralysis from which she was unable to rally. Deceased was in her 72d year. The most of her life was spent at her birthplace in Brown county, New York. Four years ago she came to Janesville and found a home with her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Perrigo, where she has since resided. She was a member of Court Street Methodist church, and has been an earnest christian for many years. Aside from the daughter with whom she lived, she leaves another daughter, Mrs. George Headley, of New York, and two sons, Mr. L. F. Lawton, president of the First National bank, of Olean, N. Y., and Mr. C. M. Lawton, of this city.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, but the remains will probably be taken to New York for interment.

Two Funerals.

The remains of the late James W. Storey, of Chicago, and of James Griffiths, who died at Huron, Dakota, on Wednesday evening, will arrive here at four o'clock this afternoon. As the Gazette goes to press, friends are gathering at the depot, awaiting the arrival of the dead. From the cars the remains will be taken direct to Oak Hill cemetery, where brief funeral services will be held. Rev. Mr. Van Wagner, of the Congregational church, will conduct the services over the remains of the late James W. Storey, the song service being rendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. J. W. St. John, Mrs. C. E. Moseley, Messrs. C. L. Clark and C. N. Vankirk.

Messrs. Albert Bintliff, James Holmes, B. H. Baldwin, Charles Carpenter, Roy Holloway and Adam Sanner went to Afton this afternoon, where they met the remains of the late James Griffiths, and as pall-bearers took charge. At the cemetery Rev. C. E. Goldthorpe, of the First M. E. church, will conduct the service.

Memorial Service.

The citizens committee appointed to arrange details for the Grant memorial service, held a meeting at the office of Mayor Winans last evening, at which all the members were present except Mr. J. A. Blount, of the third ward, and Dr. J. W. St. John, of the fourth ward.

Dr. Henry Palmer, chairman of the committee, called the meeting to order, and on motion, Ald. S. C. Burnham was elected secretary.

The committee then spent some time discussing different plans proposed, the discussion resulting in the appointment of the chairman and Mayor Winans a committee to secure a speaker, and to report to an adjourned meeting to be held at Mayor Winans' office at nine o'clock on Saturday morning, at which meeting the detailed arrangements will be made.

The committee then adjourned.

Peruvian lime of iron, is a preparation of Peruvian bark, sherry wine and iron prepared by Prentice & Evenson. This remedy purifies and nourishes the blood, invigorates the whole system, and is especially beneficial in cases of nervous debility, liver and kidney complaints, loss of appetite, dyspepsia, neuralgia, headache, affection of the skin, and all diseases originating in a bad condition of the blood.

August Weather.

Prof. Richard Mansell, the weather prophet at Rock Island, makes the following predictions for August:

"Mercury will be in conjunction with Jupiter the 4th, and in its aphelion the 6th, and in conjunction with Venus the 8th, also with Jupiter again the 26th; Venus is in conjunction with Jupiter the 5th, and with Uranus the 24th.

The principal disturbing positions of the planets for August, 1885, appear to be located from the 5th to 12th, the 20th and 21st, and from the 24th to 27th.

REMARKS.—The temperature will likely average below the mean of the season, both in the United States and Europe, during the first twenty days, and about or possibly a little above the mean the last ten days. It is not expected to be as stormy a month as July—in fact the last two weeks should be tolerably fine weather. The greatest number of storms should occur from the 5th to 12th, and perhaps one about the 21st, with a few others from the 24th to 26th. Sun spots will not be developed as vigorously as in July."

A Necessity of Health.

It is a prime necessity of health that the action of the bowels should be kept regular. But the way to overcome a temporary fit of constipation, or to remedy chronic costiveness, is not to deluge the stomach and drench the bowels with purgatives of violent and painful action. The happy medium between an inoperative and violent cathartic is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which acts just sufficiently upon the bowels to relax them, without pain, and which being a wholesome tonic, as well as aperient, has the effect of strengthening both them and the stomach, and promoting the wellbeing of the whole internal economy. The removal of bile from the blood, increased activity of the liver, usually dormant in cases of costiveness, and sound digestion follows the use of this beneficent medicine, as thorough and genial in its effects as it is safe and pure in composition. Rheumatism, fever and ague, kidney troubles and debility are also remedied by it.

Bismarck in the Reichstag.

[Chicago Herald.]

An American who recently heard Bismarck speak in the reichstag, thus pictures him: He is not the Colossus in appearance that his photographs indicate; his head is comparatively small and has not the bulldog likeness attributed to it, but the iron will, the stubborn, aggressive nature, shows in every line of his face. He stammers a little; the door of his verbal treasury does not always open at his bidding. He fairly gasps for a word at times, clears his throat, throws back his head, waves his arms—but when the word is found it demolishes some puny opponent.

The prince's speeches are not unadorned; they abound in classical quotations and citations from historical and philosophical works. Wit and pathos flow from his tongue with the same unchanged mien; no smile crosses his face, no line of sadness becomes apparent on his brow. His voice is not that of an old man; all the sonorous vigor of youth seems to animate it, and though indistinct it penetrates to every corner of the great room.

Afraid of the Railroad.

[Chicago Herald.]

Certain large manufacturers and merchants in Guadalajara regard the prospect of a speedy construction of the Mexican Central's Pacific branch to that city with no little apprehension. They know that with the coming of the railroad to their city they must readjust themselves to new trade conditions, and this they object to do.

A strawberry nine inches in circumference has been produced in Washington territory.

A Wonderful Story.

Consumptives and all, who suffer from any affection of the throat and lungs, can find a certain cure it Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Thousands of permanent cures veryfy the truth of this statement. No medicine can show such a record of wonderful cures. Thousands of once hopeless sufferers now gratefully proclaim they owe their lives to this new discovery. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. Free trial bottles at F. Sherer and Co's drug store. Large size, $1.00.

The Philosopher's Reply.

[The Argonaut.]

In some of the Boston suburbs, where concrete sidewalks have been introduced, walking is decidedly unpleasant, the choice being between this hard unyielding material and the dust and mud of the highways. A Boston philosopher, on visiting Brookline with a friend, got into a metaphysical discussion while walking along the sidewalk, and stubbing his toe against its jagged edge, stretched his length upon the hard surface. "Ah!" said his companion, on helping him to rise, "that comes from looking at things in the abstract." "On the contrary," said the philosopher, "it results from striking them in the concrete."

YES, SIR.

One can't expect to succeed in business or in pleasure either, for that matter, unless one feels all right in health and spirits. This is the first consideration. Now, its a small matter when this remedy, ZOPE-SA, is recommended so highly even guaranteed to renew one's energy and spirits by invigorating the Liver and aiding Digestion, by clearing the brain, opening the pores of the skin, regulating the bowels and system, to go to the drug store of PRENTICE & EVENSON opposite postoffice, and get a single bottle of Zopesa as a trial. It is a duty every one owes to himself. Try a 25 cent sample bottle. If you suffer from Indigestion, Heart burn or Sick Headache, don't fail to try it. ONE DOSE will relieve you immediately, and one bottle will cure any ordinary case.
